April 22, 2015 – Kenmore, WA – Dave Grant, President of Phase 4 Design, Inc. is pleased to announce that one of its employees has been honored by the City of Kenmore, WA. For public service to the citizens of Kenmore and the public at large, the Kenmore City Council has declared April 22, 2015 as “Buddy Hunt Day”.

On April 22, people around the country celebrate Earth Day. This year, we have an extra special reason to commemorate this particular Wednesday in Kenmore. On April 13, through an official proclamation, the Kenmore City Council reserved April 22, 2015 as “Buddy Hunt Day.”

For those of you who do not already know this impressive young man, Lance “Buddy” Hunt has lived in Kenmore with his family for over 20 years and is passionately involved in the community. Buddy can be seen wearing different hats all around Kenmore. He is a graduate of Inglemoor High School, currently works as a certified Telex radio dispatch technician, raises money for the March of Dimes, has completed a community emergency response certification class, volunteers with the city, and serves as vice president of the Eastside Seahawker Chapter. Not only is he engaged and excited to help his community, Buddy has also bravely overcome personal challenges and is proud to be clean and sober for four-and-a-half years. He has an 18 month old baby and is thrilled to be getting married this September.

In celebration of "Buddy Hunt Day," Buddy would like to invite you to celebrate with him by taking a little time out of your day to do a good deed to a random person in the community.

The City of Kenmore is very proud of Buddy and all of his accomplishments and contributions. Most importantly, we are honored to call him a local and hope his involvement can act as inspiration for others. His compassion for others and desire to better the lives of those around him is most admirable and absolutely worth a special day of celebration. Thank you Buddy for all you have done for the community!
